1. Registration

To access the INDICO platform, users must first register. The registration process differs depending on whether the user possesses ASIE credentials or not.

In both cases, registration can be completed by visiting the following website:

For users with ASIE credentials, it is necessary to select "Login with ENEA (ASIE)" and enter their ASIE username and password.

After this step, the system will send an email for verification to the address associated with the credentials.

Important: The username is not the email address. Instead, an email of the format name.surname@enea.it corresponds to the username name.surname .
